Preface

The aim of secondary education is to make the learners fit for entry into higher education by flourishing their latent talents and prospects with a view to building the nation with the spirit of the Language Movement and the Liberation War. To make the learners skilled and competent citizens of the country based on the economic, social, cultural and environmental settings is also an important issue of secondary education.

The textbooks of secondary level have been written and compiled according to the revised curriculum 2012 in accordance with the aims and objectives of National Education Policy-2010. Contents and presentations of the textbooks have been selected according to the moral and humanistic values of Bengali tradition and culture and the spirit of Liberation War 1971 ensuring equal dignity for all irrespective of caste and creed of different religions and sex.

Honorable Prime Minister of the Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh Sheikh Hasina expressed her firm determination to make the country free from illiteracy and instructed the concerned authority to give free textbooks to every student of the country. National Curriculum and Textbook Board started to distribute textbooks free of cost since 2010 according to her instruction. In its continuation, this textbook has been reviewed and updated with a view to create a developed and resourceful Bangladesh keeping vision 2041 ahead.

In the era of globalisation, English is one of the most powerful tools for pursuing higher studies, using technology, intercultural and inter-personal communications, and job markets at home and abroad. The curriculum makes it explicit that language learning will be graded and contents will reflect real life situations as the ultimate purpose of language learning is to communicate. The English for Today textbooks have been developed to help students attain competency in all four language skills, i.e. listening, speaking, reading and writing. The contents and illustrations of this textbook have been developed in order to suit the learners' age and cognitive level. It is to mention, this textbook was reviewed and revised from the academic year 2021.

I thank sincerely all for their intellectual labour who were involved in the process of revision, writing, editing, art and design of the textbook.

A Read and recite the poem.

The children's song

Land of our Birth, we pledge to thee
 Our love and toil in the years to be;
 When we are grown and take our place
 As men and women of our race.

Father in Heaven, Who lovest all,
 Oh help Thy children when they call;
 That they may build from age to age,
 An undefiled heritage.

Teach us to bear the yoke in youth,
 With steadfastness and careful truth;
 That, in our time, Thy Grace may give
 The Truth whereby the Nations live.

Teach us to rule ourselves always,
 Controlled and cleanly night and day;
 That we may bring, if need arise,
 No maimed and worthless sacrifice.

Teach us to look, in all our ends,
 On Thee for judge, and not our friends
 That we, with Thee, may walk uncowed
 By fear or favour of the crowd.

Teach us the strength that cannot seek,
 By deed or thought, to hurt the weak;
 That, under Thee, we may possess
 Man's strength to comfort man's distress.

Teach us Delight in simple things,
And Mirth that had no bitter springs;
Forgiveness free of evil done,

And Love to all men, 'neath the sun!
Land of our Birth, our faith, our pride,
For whose dear sake our fathers died
Head, heart and hand through the years to be!

Content to breathe his native air,
In his own ground.

Whose herds with milk, whose fields with bread,
Whose flocks supply him with attire,
Whose trees in summer yield him shade,
In winter fire.

Blest! who can unconcern'dly find
Hours, days and years slide soft away,
In health of body, peace of mind,
Quiet by day,

Sound sleep by night; study and ease
Together mix'd; sweet recreation;
And innocence, which most does please,
With meditation.

Thus let me live, unseen, unknown;
Thus unlamented let me die;
Steal from the world, and not a stone
Tell where I lie.

- Alexander Pope

- 3 What kind of water should we drink?

The word ‘hygiene’ means the practice of keeping ourselves clean. It also means to keep our home and work places clean. It is important for our good health.

Hygiene is thought to be next to godliness. It is because we cannot achieve anything physically, mentally or spiritually if we are unclean in our body, mind and soul. Nobody likes an unclean person either. So we must follow the rules of hygiene.

First, we must keep our body clean. We should have a bath every day and wash our hair regularly. This will keep the body and hair free from dirt and bacteria.

Secondly, we should wash our clothes regularly. Dirty clothes give off bad smell and invite germs. We should wear socks and shoes when we go out to protect our feet from dust and germs. It is also important to wash our hands before meals and after using the toilet. We should brush our teeth twice a day, after breakfast and supper. We must also cut our nails regularly. Our drinking water must be safe. We can get safe water by boiling and filtering.

Finally, we should keep our surroundings and environment clean.

If we do and follow all the above things properly, we will be able to lead a healthy and happy life.

10/E Purana Paltan

Dhaka 1000

9 June 2013

Dear Sohel

I am sorry I could not reply to your letter earlier. This is because last week there was a tragedy in our family. My father died of lung cancer.

He used to smoke heavily. He got the bad habit from his college days. Recently my mother and I were very worried about Father's worsening health condition. He was having continuous chest pain. The doctor showed him his chest X-ray plates. There were dark marks on his lungs. The doctor explained to him that the marks were the signs of lung cancer. He also explained that a poisonous substance called nicotine is in tobacco leaves; and cigarettes are made from tobacco leaves. When a person smokes cigarettes, this nicotine enters into his lungs with every puff. If anybody smokes cigarettes for years, this deadly nicotine causes lung cancer. Both mother and I tried to stop father from smoking. He never listened to our requests and warnings. He died an untimely death.

Let me tell you the truth. My father's death is a great shock for us. You know, we are a big family of seven. My father was the only earning member in the family. We are now broke and we don't know how we are going to survive.

Anyway, God is merciful and we are trying to recover from the shock. Write me when you have the time. Give my regards to your parents.

Love

Rabi

We find words made by adding prefixes and suffixes to the root word. Parts of speech are also shown. A verb word is always given in the simple present tense. But the past form of a verb and the past participle are also shown.

C Again read the text above. Then ask and answer the following questions.

- 1 What information does a dictionary give us about a verb word?
- 2 Why are the example sentences given?
- 3 How are new words formed?
- 4 Why are the synonyms and the antonyms given?

Lesson 3: Looking up words in a dictionary*A Talk in groups about the text in Lesson 4 and about the questions below. Then read the text.

The words in a dictionary are presented in alphabetical order. It follows the alphabetical order of letters. It means words starting with the letter D will be before the words starting with the letter E. In the same way words starting with the letter F will come after the words starting with E.

Again the words starting with the same letter are also arranged one after another in alphabetical order in the dictionary. For example, the words 'dark', 'doctor' and 'deep' all start with the letter D. These words appear in the dictionary in the order of dark, deep and doctor.

To find the words with a letter, look at the words at the top of the page.

While doing the activities, use a dictionary or a dictionary page as much as you can.

B Arrange the following words in alphabetical order.

Key words: movement, discriminatory, emergence, identity

A Look at the picture. Ask and answer the questions in pair.

1. What is happening here?
2. Does the picture relate to any important event in our national life?
3. What do you know about Bangabandhu's contributions to our national life?

B Read the text.

Sheikh Mujibur Rahman was one of the few student leaders who played a significant role in turning the language movement into a mass movement. As a student leader, he was the central figure in organizing mass gatherings, rallies and strikes for raising awareness against the discriminatory language policy of Pakistan. The language movement started when the Governor General of Pakistan, Muhammad Ali Jinnah, declared "Urdu and only Urdu shall be the state language of Pakistan" on 19 March 1948 at the Racecourse Maidan while addressing a public gathering. He again uttered the same on 24 March 1948 at the University of Dhaka during his convocation speech. The students instantly protested against this announcement vehemently.

It was the time when young Mujib started organizing the student front of Muslim League in East Pakistan. He was proud of his Bengali identity and very active to initiate strikes and protests against the language policy of Pakistan government. Later, the then Prime Minister of Pakistan Khwaja Nazimuddin echoed the statement of Mr. Jinnah on 26 January, 1952. Mujib was in prison during this time due to his political activism and was admitted to the Dhaka Medical College under police custody. However, he stayed in constant touch with other leaders directly engaged in the movement to make Bangla the state language. His directions from prison led the movement to a success. On 14 February, he started a hunger strike there.

During a general strike on 21 February, 1952 the protesting students tried to defy Section 144 imposed by the government. The police opened fire and killed a number of students including Abdus Salam, Rafiq Uddin Ahmed, Abul Barkat, Abdul Jabbar and others. Source: Bangladesh Swadhinata Juddho: Dalil Potro, volume-3, and The Constitution of Bangladesh

Perhaps all of you are familiar with Bangabandhu's historic speech on 7th March, 1971. In that speech he narrated the long history of repression and struggle of Bangalees for self-rule. There he narrated how the Pakistani rulers exploited us and tried to stop our voice at the gun-point. By the end of the speech he urged everyone to be prepared with whatever they had. He emphasized that our struggle was for liberty and independence. And finally, the declaration of independence came from Bangabandhu in the first hours of 26 March, 1971. Bangabandhu passed on this voice message just before he was arrested by the Pakistani Army.

- What do you see in the picture?
- What does ‘memoirs’ mean?
- What does ‘The Unfinished Memoirs’ mean in your own language?
- What relation do you find between ‘Sheikh Mujibur Rahman’ and ‘The Unfinished Memoirs’?

B Read the text silently and tell what it is about.

You all know Skeikh Mujibur Rahman as a politician, who has many feathers in his crown. He is the leader of our struggle for independence. He declared independence on 26 March 1971. He is the founder of Bangladesh. He is our Father of the Nation. He is the leader of the oppressed people. He was and still is so popular, so dear, and so own to everyone that people passionately call him Bangabandhu meaning the friend of Bengal/Bangla. But do you know, Bangabandhu as a writer! Yes, we have got some precious memories of Bangabandhu written by himself. He wrote that in Bangla which is available as Osomapto Atmojiboni. Written in the style of auto-biography, Bangabandhu unfolds some unknown aspects of his personal, political and family life in this book. The narration clearly shows why he has been Bangabandhu and why he is the best Bangalee in a thousand years. The following text is an excerpt taken from The Unfinished Memoirs, an English translation of the book.

People in the village that I visited would not only offer me refreshments, they would also offer me money and would be offended if I refused to take it. They insisted that I should utilize the money for my campaign.

I remember once how a very poor old woman had waited for a few hours by her hut because she had been told that I would be crossing by. When she finally met me, she held my hand and said, "Please come inside my hut because I would like you to sit inside it for a while." Holding on to her hand, I went in. There were a lot of people with me and yet she spread out a mat for all of us and gave me a bowl of milk, a paan leaf, and some coins. Handing me these things she said, "My dear son, please drink the milk and have the paan leaf and take the money, little though it is, because that is all I have." Tears came to my eyes. I drank the milk but returned the coins, along with some more money, saying, "Your blessings are more than sufficient for me; they cannot be equated with money and I don't have enough to repay you. But she refused to take the coins and the money I gave her. Instead, she told me affectionately, "The prayers of the poor will be with you." When I left her hut my eyes were moist with tears. On that day, I promised myself that I would do nothing to betray my people.

If you are travelling with a child or someone who requires assistance, secure your mask first, and then assist the other person. Keep your mask on until a uniformed crew member advises you to remove it.

In the event of an emergency, please assume the bracing position. That is, lean forward with your hands on top of your head and your elbows against your thighs. Ensure your feet are flat on the floor.

A life vest is located in a pouch under your seat or between the armrests. When instructed to do so, open the plastic pouch and remove the vest. Slip it over your head. Pass the straps around your waist and adjust at the front. To inflate the vest, pull firmly on the red cord, before you leave the aircraft. We remind you that this is a nonsmoking flight.

You will find this and all the other safety information in the card located in the seat pocket in front of you. We strongly suggest you read it before takeoff. If you have any questions, please don’t hesitate to ask one of our crew members. We wish you all an enjoyable flight.

It was nearly 8 p.m. when they all got settled. They finished dinner and started to plan for the next day. Mita read about the floating market in the internet, and wanted to see one. "Well, then you have to wake up very early tomorrow. The market sits early in the morning and is over before noon. We are going to the Tha Kha floating market tomorrow," said Mr. Islam. It was Sunday. Mita, Zara, Jhuma Islam and Mazharul Islam woke up very early. They quickly got ready and started for Tha Kha floating market. They planned to have breakfast at the market. They reached the market place sharp at 7. The canals were surrounded with coconut palm trees. They hired a boat. The boatman started to row slowly taking them to the centre of the market.

There were boats everywhere. The sellers were mainly elderly Thai women. Their small boats were laden with bundles of lotus flowers, farm-fresh coconuts, fruits, vegetables, local food, and delicious sweets. The sellers and buyers rowed their boats slowly. The sellers displayed their goods for sale and the buyers chose their pick. They could have a little chit-chat as buying and selling was going on.

- 2 Why did the boatman row slowly?
- 3 Who were selling goods? How were they selling their goods?

The Tha Kha floating market is more traditional with a few tourists visiting than other floating markets. Originally, the Tha Kha floating market used to sit only six or seven days a month depending on the phase of the moon. Nowadays, the trade takes place on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays too. The main buyers here are the Tha Kha natives. People seem to know each other very well. Everyone was seen smiling and calling each other by name. The locals did not notice Mita and others much. They were all busy buying and selling.

They bought the traditional and very popular food called ‘Pad Thai’, a kind of noodles with shrimps, tomato and some vegetables, with freshly roasted crushed peanut. The food was served in a bowl made from banana leaf. After Pad Thai, they ate ‘Kanom Krok’. It is a coconut pancake which is very sweet.

The Tha Kha people are simple and easy going. They are very friendly and polite. They do not understand English or any other language. Yet they have a way to communicate with Mita and others.

Key words : mythology ancient dissolved status unparalleled association delicate

A Look at the pictures and discuss in pairs.

B Read the text and answer the questions that follow.

Thousands of years ago, the first pearl was probably discovered while human beings were searching for food at the sea shore. Throughout history, the pearl with its shine has been one of the most highly valued gems.

Pearls have been mentioned many times in religious texts and mythologies from the earliest times.

The ancient Egyptians valued pearls so much that they were buried with them. It is said that the famous queen of Egypt, Cleopatra would dissolve a pearl in a glass and drink it as a sign of love and respect for the entire nation.

The Greeks thought of pearls as a sign of wealth and social position. The beauty of pearls was associated with love and marriage.

In ancient Rome, pearls were considered the greatest sign of wealth and social status.

At that time the young women of noble families loved to wear beautiful pearl necklaces. The brave knights used to wear them in the battles for good luck.

Questions

- 1 Do you think 'pearls' were discovered by accident? Why?
- 2 Why do you think pearls were valued so much in the past?

Lesson 2: The Ama divers

Key words : rare descend hazardous rely

A Read the text and answer the following questions.

Before the beginning of the 20th century, pearls were obtained from pearl oysters. These oysters were collected from the bottom of the ocean, lake or river.

To get enough pearl oysters, free-divers were often forced to descend to the depth of more than 100 feet in one breath. Because of the difficulty of diving, pearls at that time were of different quality as well as very rare.

In Asia some pearl oysters could be found on shoals at a depth of 5–7 feet from the surface. At times the divers had to go 40 feet or even up to 125 feet deep to find enough pearl oysters. These deep dives were extremely hazardous to the divers.

Questions

- 1 What is the text about?
- 2 Where did the people get the pearls from?

B Read about the Ama divers of Japan. Discuss in pairs the information that you have got from the text and answer the questions.

In some fishing villages along the coast of Japan, there are amazing groups of women known as 'Ama divers'. These women worked and are still working as Ama. The word 'Ama' means 'women of the sea or sea women'. They are independent divers. They make their living by diving. They can dive to the depth of the sea up to 25 metres. And they dive without using oxygen tanks or other breathing equipment.

The Ama divers rely on their own skills and breathing techniques. They use that skill and technique to push themselves down to the bottom of the sea and back to the surface again. They can hold their breath for up to two minutes. Careful watching, lung capacity and hunter instincts are the special qualities of Ama divers.

However some of these young villagers are going to the city for other jobs. The remaining Ama divers are now aged between 50 and 60. But there are still some who continue to dive even at their 70s. If the young people do not take up Ama diving, soon this profession will die out.

Questions

- 1 Why are the Ama divers amazing?
- 2 How deep can the Ama divers go down into the sea?
- 3 What techniques and skills do the Ama divers use in diving?
- 4 Why do you think the young villagers are going to the city?

River gypsies are an ethnic group of people in Bangladesh. They are known as bedey to local people. The gypsies have their own lifestyle and culture. They live in groups and do not own any land. Therefore, they live a nomadic life, travelling from one place to another. These people roam across our rivers and waters from May to December in small country boats. These boats are their houses and these people are a part of our waters. In winter, many water bodies dry up. At that time they return to the mainland and live in make-shift tarpaulin tents on open river banks. You can see their men relaxing in the tents. Toddlers play with dogs or other pets in the dust. Women often idle away time by hair doing, picking off lice in twos or threes sitting in a row.

Throughout the monsoon, they remain busy with fishing. They also dive for natural pearls in waters. Sometimes, they camp for a couple of weeks. Men catch snakes and entertain people with snake charming and sell herbal cures. Women go from door to door to sell bangles, cosmetics and other things. They also try to heal pains of old people often by sucking out blood from their body.

D In summer vacation last May, Sohan went to Lauhajang in Munshigonj to visit his maternal uncle. His elder cousin, Jihan studies sociology at Dhaka University. One afternoon, Jihan took Sohan to a bedey camp to know about their life. They talked to a middle aged bedey woman who was cooking in front of her tent. Read the conversation and do the following activity.

- Jihan : Good afternoon. Can I ask you a few questions ?
- Woman : Good afternoon. Umm..... you see I'm busy cooking. I've to feed my son and then...
- Jihan : Well, I won't take much time. Just a few questions if you please....
How long have you been here in this camp?
- Woman : Four months. Since last January. And if it rains, we're going to rivers again next month.

- Woman : We catch fishes. Our men are snake charmers and we heal toothache and joint pains of old people.
- Jihan : How do you heal people?
- Woman : With traditional herbs and healing art.
- Jihan : Well, if you don't mind, how much do you earn?
- Woman : Not enough. About 3000 taka per month. Now many people don't believe in our remedies. They go to doctors. So we go to remote villages...
- Jihan : What about your son? I guess he is already 5. Does he go to school?
- Woman : Not yet. But I've heard about mobile boat-schools in rivers. I'll try to find one for my son.

Lesson 4: River gypsies in Bangladesh (2)

Key words : survive used to inherit mainstream petty trick integral part community settle urbanise (v) urban (adj)

- A Look at the pictures. Discuss with your partner and say who they are, where they are, what they are doing, etc.

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

River gypsies in Bangladesh are having various problems. First, Bangladesh is getting urbanised very rapidly. Gypsy people are losing their customers in urban population. Hence, their income is threatened. Secondly, 24,000 kilometres of previous waterways has shrunk into only 6,000 kilometres in the country in dry seasons.

Scientists believe that Bangladesh will be worst affected by global climate change. The unpredictable rain and drying out of rivers have made boat movement heavily restricted. Thirdly, many river gypsies are changing their lifestyle in the context of changed reality. They are thinking of living permanently on land. The authority feels that river gypsies need help to survive in the mainstream population. Therefore, the government is offering voting rights, permanent housing and bank-loan facilities. However, changes do not come overnight.

Traditionally, river gypsies are used to water life. They have inherited from their forefathers necessary life skills to survive in waters. They have no education and training to adapt to mainstream modern society. So the authority feels the need to bring them under formal education network. But they have no permanent living place. Gypsy children are born and brought up on roaming boats. Therefore, they cannot go to conventional schools. And hence, mobile boat-schools are coming up for gypsy children. Some voluntary organisations are running special schools on boats to educate river gypsy children in some areas.

Questions

- 1 What are the main problems that river gypsies are facing?
- 2 What is the effect of global climate change in Bangladesh?
- 3 Why are many river gypsies thinking of changing their lifestyle?
- 4 Why can't river gypsy children go to conventional schools?

Lesson 1: What is news?

Key words : bunk off mass people objective bias broadcast refer editorial informative educative

A Look at the following pictures. Discuss with your partner what you see in them.

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

'I eat rice every day. I play cricket. I don't bunk off school, blah...blah...blah....' These are common events. They happen every day or on some occasions. Are these events news? Should they be published in newspapers? The answer is a big 'NO'. Then what is news anyway? What do we want to know from the media? 'When a dog bites a man that is not news, but when a man bites a dog that is news,' says Charles Anderson Dana.

The first thing is that the news should be a piece of information. Secondly, the information should be recent or new, and hence it is 'news'. Thirdly, mass people should take interest in it. Fourthly, it should be self-explained. That is, it should answer all the questions with who, which, what, where, when, why and how Finally, it should be objective. Recently, another aspect has been added: news is either printed or broadcast or on the internet.

There are opinions that the term 'news' comes from 'new'. Others say it is news because it comes from all directions: North, East, West and South.

Questions

- 1 What features should news have?
- 2 What is the difference between news and an event?
- 3 ‘.....it should be self-explained ...’. What does ‘it’ mean here?

- Do you read newspapers?
- What newspaper/s do you read and how often?
- What pages interest you the most?
- What do you know about the history of the newspapers?

B Read the text below silently and fast. Then tell what the text is about.

Humans have a natural curiosity to know the unknown, to see the unseen and to conquer the unconquered. Every day so many things are happening around and human beings are eager to know them all. They not only like to know happenings in their own and other countries, but also what is happening in Antarctica or Mars, or Siberia. This curiosity to know and understand situations is not a contemporary phenomenon. It is true, the world wide web (www) has made our life easier and now we know anything that takes place at the farthest corners of the world with a single click. However, it was not that easy a few hundred years ago. Through a process of evolution, the newspaper has now become a part and parcel of human life. Modern people cannot think of a day when they don't have a newspaper passed through the doors in the early morning. A fresh newspaper with a hot cup of tea or coffee has been the symbol of modern urban life. We peep at a newspaper for national, local, international or sports news. Is there a show of Nuruldiner Sarajibon, or Chitrangoda or Hamlet? Is there a suitable job offer? Are there any sales? Let us have a look at the newspaper. The newspaper is the ultimate destination for advertisements of products, classified advertisements for finding brides and bridegrooms, houses to-let, sales, and what not? It is said, in the modern world, information is power and a newspaper is an information hub.

Acta Diurna: the first newspaper

But how were the initial days of the newspapers? The first newspaper, Acta Diurna, was published in ancient Rome in 59 BC. Acta Diurna meaning 'daily acts' posted different types of announcements and social events. However, Acta Diurna was not a paper-based newspaper. It was a message board displayed in public places. Just imagine how old the history of the newspaper in human civilization is! Acta Diurna was published just 59 years before the birth of Jesus Christ!

Much later, at the beginning of the 16th century, printed 'news books' were published in England and they were based on stories such as battles, disasters or public celebrations. The London Gazette claims to be England's oldest newspaper published in 1665. The 17th century also marks the regular publication of newspapers in Germany, Italy and the Netherlands. Johann Carolus published the first weekly newspaper, Account of All Distinguished and Commemorable News, from Germany in 1605. The newspapers that are delivered to your house each day started its journey from the 18th Century. The Pennsylvania Packet and The Daily Advertiser were the first daily newspapers from the US, which came out in 1784. Many independent newspapers ran before that on a weekly or monthly basis.

The first newspaper printed in India was Hickey's Bengal Gazette in 1780 under the British Raj. It was published by James Augustus Hickey. In this process, the first Bangla weekly newspaper, the Samachar Darpon, came out in 1818. The missionaries ran this newspaper. The Azad became Dhaka's first daily newspaper. It was founded in 1960s. The Azad played an important role during our language movement as the daily Ittefaq played glorious role in our struggle for independence.

In the 21st century, there is a change in the form and presentation of newspapers. They are no more confined to tabloid and broadsheet sizes. Nearly all the world's major newspapers have begun publishing online editions of their newspapers and although some newspapers charge their readers for access, many have made their web editions free. Yet, having a printed newspaper is still an obsession for many people in the world.

C Read the text above again and fill in the flow chart with relevant information. Why are these dates important in the history of newspapers?

Before the birth of Christ

16th century

D Group work.

2. From your reading of the text in Section B, what difference do you find in the newspapers of the present time compared to those of the early days? Justify your arguments.

Language Point

Look at the sentence below.

Is there a show of Nuruldiner Sarajibon, or Chitrangoda or Hamlet?

There at the beginning of this sentence is called introductory there.

For example, There is a new movie at Cineplex.

There is sometimes used in the beginning of a sentence immediately before/after a form of verb ‘to be’ when the subject noun is an uncertain person or a thing. Here ‘there’ is not an actual subject, but enables the subject to follow the verb. This is called ‘Introductory There’.

E      Make a list of sentences that use ‘Introductory There’ in the text in Section B and then make five sentences using ‘Introductory There’.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

F      Read the following sentences. Write T if the statement is true and F if the statement is false and then provide correct answer.

1. It annoys people when the newspaper-man passes a newspaper through the door.

3. The first newspaper was published in England.
4. The history of newspaper dates back to recent time.
5. The Americans first introduced daily newspapers.
6. The Samachar Darpan came out once in seven days.
7. Online newspapers are common all over the world

G Here is a small story but the sequence of the sentences is jumbled. Work in groups to rearrange the sentences so that the text comes as a cohesive paragraph.

1. Rumki is very emotional and can't bear it.
2. Putting it on the dining table, she quickly makes her tea and comes back to it.
3. Then she takes some light freehand exercise, get freshened, puts some water in the kettle and waits for a soft sound.
4. Rumki gets up early in the morning every day.
5. She enjoys the page for entertainment, but she is sometimes upset with the death-news.
6. Within half an hour she hears the sound of the passing the newspaper through the door.
7. Before she takes her first sip of tea, she skims the headlines.
8. Collecting it, she takes a long sniff. She loves it.

Lesson 3: TV news report

A Work with a partner and discuss what you see in the picture below.

B Read the text silently and answer the questions that follow.

Have you noticed TV reporters appearing on the screen with reports of different types of news? Have you thought how these reports are prepared? Scorching sun, monsoonal showers or bitter winter can never stop them from reaching the news spot. The reports include political issues, people's protests, accidents, social events or thoughtful opinion of expert people, price hike, a celebration after a cricket match win and what not? TV reporters do not miss or delay to cover them.

It is said that old news is no news. Consequently, there is always a hurry among the reporters to be up-to-date in developing stories or even break the story first. Breaking news has become popular among the viewers, it means the first and fast appearance of a startling news on the channels. Once a journalist has been assigned by his editor to cover a story, a team is formed. Usually it consists of a journalist, a camera operator and sometimes a sound and or a light technician also join as crew. The journalist investigates the topic, plans interviewing the relevant people and puts forward a concrete idea of the topic which is going to be filmed. The news team then goes out to cover the news and collect the materials. The voice over is then recorded in a studio usually by the journalist or a news presenter. This is the voice that the audience hear while the video clip moves on narrating the story and the reporter is not seen on the screen at that time. It is done to make the visual material and the full story clear to the audience with information and explanation. The editor may edit the report before it is ready to go on air, but often there may be live reporting of incidents.

A TV news report usually begins with an announcement. One or two short sentences explain what it is about. Then in the main report we see the reporter is describing an event into a microphone. To emphasize the significance of the situation, to show its authenticity, and to convey the feelings of the reporter and others involved, the reporter stands in front of the camera so that the audience can see what's going on in the background. The shots of the scene need to be easy to understand since it provides important visual information to the viewers. It depends on the skills of the camera operator.

In a TV report, there are usually comments or opinions from one to four persons who are related. These statements can be for or against a particular topic. TV news report can use graphics like charts, tables, graphs or archive materials like old photos or videos to make it more comprehensive and credible to the audience. In the concluding part, the reporter summarizes the possible outcomes of the story.

A live coverage of a news is different. Everything has to be finished on the spot and news video is aired instantly and in most cases without much pre-plan. No chance of editing and very less chance for retaking the shot there. Quick intelligent decisions and prompt management of required technical assistance in a situation determines the quality of live reports.

Reporters need to be careful to keep camera shots short and to the point. They also need to use simple language, and speak clearly and concisely as there will be time constraints for each piece of report. In order to keep video shots steady, the camera operator often uses tripod.

Questions

1. Does unfavorable weather condition stop a TV news reporter from covering a news?
2. What is a breaking news?
3. Why is voice over added to a TV news report?
4. How is a live news coverage different in making from recorded news story?
5. What are some points about which the TV reporters need to be careful?

C Read the following statements and say whether true or false. If false, give the true information.

- a. A TV news reporter do not use voice over in a live coverage.
- b. Graphics and archive materials are not at all necessary for TV news report.
- c. The reporter comes in front of the camera just to show himself.
- d. A camera person determines the quality of the shots in the scene.
- e. In the concluding part of the TV news report, the reporter gives his own opinion.

D Match the words or phrases from column A with similar meanings in column B and make sentences with them. One is done for you.

Column A	Column B
price hike	declaration

authenticity	records
coverage	reporting

2. Why are the children gathering around him?
3. Do you read story books? How do you collect them?

B Read the following news article.The life and legacy of Polan Sarkar*

Ekushey Padak winner Polan Sarkar, affectionately called Alor Ferrywala, a torch bearer, was best known as a kind soul who distributed books for free among people, died on Friday 1st march 2019, but left a legacy that will be remembered for years to come.

The 98-year-old had been suffering from old-age complications. He passed away surrounded by his loved ones at his home of Bausha village in Bagha upazila of Rajshahi. Born in August 1, 1921, Polan Sarkar's real name is Harez Uddin. He was born in Bagatipara, Natore.

Financial troubles of his family could not hamper his passion for reading and learning. He loved books. As a boy, Polan borrowed books from wherever he could, and voraciously read them.

He established a school in his village in 1965 after receiving some inheritance from his grandfather. In 1990, he decided a yearly award for students of the school who would top the merit list. The prize was, of course, books. Other students expressed their desire to read as well. He gave them the condition that the students must return the books to him upon finishing, so he could lend the books to other students as well. Eventually, local adults started borrowing books from his collection as well.

Polan Sarkar started a social movement of distributing books free of charge. When he was diagnosed with diabetes in 1992, he decided he would distribute books during his daily walks. He would go around on his own two feet, sharing his love for books.

He had been admired in Rajshahi for a long time, but gained nationwide recognition after being featured in Bangladesh Television's popular show Ittadi in December 29, 2006.

He won the Ekushey Padak in 2011, Bangladesh's second-highest civilian award, for his contribution to society.

- write short paragraphs

Lesson 1: The wheel

Key words: circular rotate axis propeller turbine mobility journey (v) vehicle invention civilisation

A Look at the pictures and say which one is easier to move and why.

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

Human beings have invented many important things so far. They have brought great civilization to the world through these inventions. Do you know which invention is the greatest? It is 'the wheel'.

A wheel is a circular object. It can rotate around its axis and help easy movement of things across a surface.

The wheels are, in fact, everywhere. They are on our cars, trains, planes, wagons and so on. Besides, they are on most factory and farm equipment. Fans, propellers, turbines are also other types of wheels.

So the wheel is very important. We cannot imagine modern life without wheels. But do we know exactly who made the first wheel?

Questions

- 1 What is a wheel?
- 2 What can a wheel do?
- 3 Where can you find wheels?

C Fill in the blanks with appropriate words from the box. There are more words than necessary.

difficult much circular important heavy first

Although the wheel is a very (a) ----- invention, the history of its origin is unknown. Experts guess that the first wheel was developed from a circular object. The early man observed that a huge piece of stone could be rolled easily if it was (b) ----- in shape. Similarly, a heavy tree-trunk is (c) ----- to carry; but it can be rolled away with less effort. Even, a gigantic tree-trunk can be moved easily using other small and round trunks as rollers under it. Thus, early man took advantage of rolling objects and developed the (d) ----- wheel. Apart from its mechanical advantage, a wheel's mobility has contributed (e) ----- to the civilisation.

D Make as many correct sentences as you can using the substitution table. In the third column there are more items than necessary.

1. The wheel		a type of wheel.
2. A plain wheel	is	around its axis.
3. It	has	one of the simplest machines.
4. A propeller	rotates	wheels on vehicles and machines. helped in rapid progress of civilisation.

E Have you ever travelled by bus or car? Do you have any experience of what happens if one wheel falls flat. If yes, give a description of your experience. If no, imagine such a situation, and write a paragraph on it.

Lesson 2: The history of the wheel

Key words : invent valley ancient further pioneer warfare

- A Look at the following pictures of wheels. They existed in different ages in history. Discuss with your partner and put ordinal numbers under them (in spelling, such as 'first', 'second', etc.,) beginning from the ancient to the modern times.

- B Read the following dialogue between the English teacher, Mr Ramis and a student Rubina.

- Mr Ramis : You know that the invention of the wheel has helped to create a new civilisation. But do you know who first used wheels?
- Rubina : No teacher. But I guess it may be the Greeks.
- Mr Ramis : The Greeks were pioneers in many things. But in this case, however, the Mesopotamians were the first. The oldest ever wheel was discovered in Mesopotamia. It was in 3,500 B.C.
- Rubina : Where is Mesopotamia?
- Mr Ramis : Well, Mesopotamia was in ancient Iraq. It was along the valley of the rivers Tigris and Euphrates. After the Mesopotamians, the wheel was further improved by the Egyptians. They first made wheels with spokes. Then they used them on chariots around 2000 BC.
- Rubina : So the wheel travelled to Egypt from Mesopotamia?

Mr Ramis : Exactly. But it travelled eastwards too. Wheels reached the Indus valley by 3000 B.C. But chariots with spoked wheels were made in ancient India in around 1500 B.C. They were used for war, hunting and racing.

Rubina : What about the Greeks, teacher? Didn't they use wheels?

Mr Ramis : They definitely did. In 1500 BC, the Greeks too learnt the idea of wheel-making from the Egyptians. They also made further improvements on it. Later, the Romans did the same too and produced a variety of wheeled vehicles.

C Read the statements below and say whether they are True or False. If False, give the right answer.

- 1 The Greeks were the pioneers in developing spoked-wheels.
- 2 The earliest wheel was discovered in 2000 B.C.
- 3 The Egyptians first used wheels on chariots.
- 4 The Romans first used wheeled chariots for warfare.
- 5 The ancient Indians used wheels before the ancient Romans did.

D Look at the following map of the ancient river-valley civilisations, their locations in the map, and how they are related to wheels. Discuss with your partner.

E Listen to the teacher/CD carefully and complete the following sentences with appropriate words.

U9, L2 E

G Write a paragraph on the history of the wheel. Take your cues from the dialogue in section B.

Lesson 3: The fastest wheel on earth

Key words : high-speed record-breaking network expand conventional unconventional magnetic trainset

A Look at the pictures of some of the fastest trains on earth and talk about them with your partner.

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

The TGV (Train à Grande Vitesse, meaning high-speed train) is France's high-speed rail service.

It started in the 1970s. Originally, it was powered by gas turbines. But in 1973, the TGV was changed into electric trains. The TGV service first started between Paris and Lyon in 1981. Later, the network connected other cities in France with Paris.

A TGV test train set the world record for the fastest conventional wheeled train on 3 April 2007. It reached the speed of 574.8 km/h (357.2 m/h) on the test run. But the regular TGV trains operate at the highest speed of 320 km/h (200 m/h). It is the present world record of speed of a conventional commercial train.

The Bullet Train is the network of high-speed train service in Japan. It started operation in 1964 on a limited route. But at present, most major cities of Japan come under the network.

The Bullet Train runs at a maximum speed of 300 km/h (186 m/h). It plans to increase speed up to 320 km/h (200 mph). In 2003, Japan set the world record for unconventional magnetic trainsets. In a test run, the speed was 581 km/h (361 mph). But it is not yet in regular commercial operation.

The High-speed Rail

The High-speed Rail service in China started operation on April 18, 2007. Currently China has started building a high-speed passenger rail network. It will be similar to French TGV or Japanese Bullet Trains. The usual top speed of China's conventional quick trains is 300 km/h (186 mph).

Recently China has set the world record of a speed of 487.3 km/h (303 mph). In 2011, this record was set by an unconventional magnetic trainset called the "Harmony Express". This is the highest speed of an unconventional magnetic trainset in regular commercial operation.

C Read the above text in section B again. Now discuss with your partner to fill in the blank slots in the following grid with the information about high-speed trains.

Name of the country	Name of the train/train network	Year of introduction/start	Top speed of conventional train	Top speed of unconventional train	Holds world record for

D Discuss in groups to decide which of the above three rail services you like best and why. Finally write a paragraph and present it to the class.

E Look at the following picture of a railway station in Bangladesh. Now work in pairs.

Dhaka Airport Railway station

Name: Bangladesh Railway

- Headquarter: Dhaka
- Zones: Eastern and Western
- Numbers of stations: 459; number of engines: 284; number of passenger carriages: 1,245; number of wagons: 1,2948
- Total length of railroad: 2,855 kilometres; passengers transported annually: 42 million; total number of employees: 34,168
- Nature of present operations: international (Dhaka-Kolkata); inter-city; local

F Work in pair. Imagine your partner is a railway official and you are a reporter. You asked questions and the official gave the above information (section E) in answers. Discuss and write what the questions might be.

For example:

- 1 What is the official name of our rail service?
- 2 Where is the headquarters of Bangladesh Railway?

Now continue...

- 1 ..... ?
- 2 ..... ?
- 3 ..... ?
- 4 ..... ?
- 5 ..... ?
- 6 ..... ?

Lesson 4: Taking off

Key words: endeavor supersonic speed revolution aviation ads website neither ground (v) sky's the limit

A Look at the picture and discuss with your partner what it is and where you can find it.

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

Human beings conquered the distance on earth by discovering wheels. They endeavored further. Then on December 17, 1903, the Wright brothers in America made the first experiment of flying in a plane. In the experiment, a machine carried a man and rose above by its own power. The machine was called 'aka airplane'. It flew naturally in a smooth speed, and finally landed without damage. That was human being's first real take-off. And now, they have got a supersonic speed. In a supersonic speed, something travels faster than sound! So the sky's the limit now!

Modern aircraft companies are making revolutions in aviation technology. Boeing as well as Airbus is producing modern passenger airplanes. These planes fly very fast. Boeing 787 flies 950 km/h. However, Airbus 350 is expected to fly at a speed of 945 km/h.

You find attractive ads on the websites of both Boeing and Airbus planes. Both have excellent features. But in speed, neither could beat the Concorde. It is the world's fastest supersonic passenger aircraft. Its normal speed was 2,170 km/h. The Concorde was a joint project by France and Britain. It started passenger flight in 1976. Unfortunately, the Concorde fleet was grounded forever in 2003 after a major accident.

Questions

- 1 Who made the first successful experiment in flying an airplane?
- 2 What was the first flying machine called?
- 3 What do you mean by 'supersonic'?
- 4 What was world's fastest passenger airplane?
- 5 When was Concorde fleet finally grounded?

Note: The speed of sound, which is approximately 760 miles per hour is called 1 Mach. An airplane flying less than 1 Mach or less than 760 miles per hour is travelling at subsonic speed. Faster than 1 Mach or 760 miles per hour would be a supersonic speed.

C Read the dialogue between the English teacher Mr Ramis and Sohan.
Then do the following exercise:

- Sohan : Teacher, in the last class we read about modern aircraft. There were Boeing 787s, Airbus 350s, Concorde and so on. But which one is the best? Which one can we buy for our Biman Bangladesh Airlines?
- Mr Ramis : A difficult question. There are certain things to consider. If you think of speed, Concorde flies the fastest. To many, it looks the most beautiful. But it's no more in operation.
- Sohan : Between the other two aircraft?
- Mr Ramis : Well, if you remember, Boeing 787 travels 950 km/h. So you see, it's not as fast as Concorde. But it's faster than Airbus 350.
- Sohan : Yes, teacher. I remember Airbus 350 travels 945 km/h. It's 5 km shorter than Boeing 787.
- Mr Ramis : Nice calculation! But there are other factors too. Say, passenger capacity, production cost and many more. Airbus 380 now is the largest and can carry more passengers than any other aircraft. Authorities have to consider so many...
- Sohan : Yes, teacher. I understand.

Complete these statements using the correct form of words in the brackets.

- 1 Airbus 350 is a bit ..... (slow) than Boeing 787.
- 2 Concorde flew the ..... (fast) among all passenger aircrafts.

Things that have changed our life

- 3 Even sound cannot travel as ..... (fast) as Concorde.
  - 4 In supersonic speeds, Concorde flies ..... (high) in the sky than Boeing.
  - 5 To many, Concorde looks ..... (beautiful) than other passenger aircrafts.
  - 6 Airbus A380 is the ..... (large) passenger aircraft in the world now.
  - 7 Airbus A380 can carry ..... (many) passengers than Boeing 787.
- D Project Work: Work in groups. Suppose, your teacher will buy a mobile handset. Visit in pairs a nearby mobile phone shop. Make a list of different models of handset with their price and other features. Then discuss with your partner to compare and decide which one will be the best handset and why. Share your findings with other groups.

Lesson 5: Future aircraft

Key words : withstand space base launch detach monitor hypersonic research melting point

- A Look at the picture and say what it is. Discuss with your partner.

B Read the news report adapted from The Guardian.

The Falcon Hypersonic Technology Vehicle-2 (Falcon HTV-2) is the fastest plane ever built by human beings. It would fly from London to Sydney in less than an hour. Supersonic Concorde, by the way, could not fly at such a great speed. At the same time it would withstand temperatures of almost 2,000 degree C. This temperature is hotter than the melting point of steel.

The US Defense Agency will launch the Falcon HTV-2. First, they will set it on the back of a rocket. Then they will launch both into the space from an Air Force Base. The plan goes like this: engineers will launch the Falcon HTV-2 into the space on the back of a rocket; then they will detach the plane from the rocket; the plane Falcon will fly towards the Earth; engineers will guide and monitor it in its flight. The plane would fly at hypersonic speed of 13,000 mp/h. This speed is about 20 times the speed of sound.

The Falcon was born in 2003. It was born as part of a US military project. The project researched and built a special type of plane. The researchers wanted that the plane could reach any part of the world in less than an hour. They also wanted to use it for any purposes, military or civil. The plane was already tested in computer models.

The Falcon Hypersonic Technology Vehicle-2 would be mankind's dream aircraft in the days to come.

Questions

- 1 What is HTV-2?
- 2 What is the speed of HTV-2?
- 3 Describe the steps of HTV-2 test flight.
- 4 Why was the HTV-2 developed?
- 5 Do you think that HTV-2 will be 'mankind's dream aircraft'? Why or Why not?

- C Imagine you are a TV reporter. You have come to interview the chief engineer of the HTV-2 Launch Project. What questions will you ask him/her? Design a short dialogue between yourself and the engineer, and write it. Finally act it out in pairs with proper sounds, stress and intonation.
- D Listen to the teacher/CD carefully and complete the following sentences with appropriate words.

U9, L5 D
Listening text: 11

- 1 Thursday's flight will test another ----- of the aircraft.
- 2 The plane is made of ----- composite materials.
- 3 The plane will fly at ----- speed.
- 4 In the flight, the body ----- of the plane could reach 2,000 degree Celsius.
- 5 ----- will melt at 2000 degree Celsius.

- E The following passage is based on the information in section B. Read the text in B again. Discuss in pairs and complete the following sentences with will/would, can/could/could not.

Even Concorde ----- fly as fast as Falcon HTV-2. The news report says: the US Defense Agency ----- launch the Falcon Hypersonic Technology Vehicle-2 into space. Scientists expect that the Falcon HTV-2 ----- fly at 13,000 miles per hour. The US military wishes that the Falcon ----- bomb any part of the world in less than an hour in the future. Engineers plan that they ----- set the Falcon on the back of a rocket to launch it into the distant space.

- F Have you ever dreamt of flying to a city/country of your choice? If yes, write about your dream. If not, try to imagine you are flying to that place in a plane. Write about your experience and expectations.

If you fly westward in a supersonic plane such as Concorde, you will land several hours before you took off. Can you explain how?

Lesson 6: Paper and wheel

Key words : record paper surface of stone bark encyclopedia wood plunk digital

A Look at the picture and say what this is. Discuss with your partner.

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

Communication of ideas is at the centre of civilisation. It needs written records. Most of our records in the modern age are on paper. Though writing was invented very early, paper is a more modern invention.

For long in history, people exchanged ideas through speaking and listening. Then there came the art of writing. But to record thoughts in writing was difficult. Writing materials were not available. People used the surface of stone, metal, wood, bark, leaves, etc. for writing. Those things were not easy to carry. Then for ages, people looked for easy writing materials. Finally, paper was invented in China in 105 AD.

Before the paper age, knowledge was very restricted. Can you think of that time? There were very few books in the world. Maybe, they were written on stone or on heavy wood plunks or on metal sheets. Suppose, one page was a heavy stone block. So, think of a hundred-page book! In our age, you can carry the entire world of knowledge in digital form in your laptop bag. You can even carry a huge volume of paper encyclopedia. But who could produce and carry tons of heavy stone books and documents in those paperless days? In fact, paper has made publication and the spread of knowledge and information easy. So, you can see how paper has changed our life.

Questions:

- 1 How did people exchange ideas before writing was invented?
- 2 Why did people look for easy writing materials?
- 3 Why was knowledge very restricted in the pre-paper age?
- 4 Do you think paper has changed our life? Explain why your answer is 'yes' or 'no'.
- 5 Where was paper invented and when?

C Discuss with your partner and make a list of things other than paper on which we can write in pens, pencils, markers, brushes, paint/pastels etc.

D Listen to the teacher/CD carefully and complete the following sentences.

U9, L6 D
Listening text: 12

- 1 The person who invented paper is a ----- man.
- 2 He took the bark of a mulberry tree and ----- fibres.
- 3 This knowledge of ----- was first used in China.
- 4 The word 'paper' is not ----- .
- 5 The word 'paper' was derived from a kind of Egyptian plant called -----

E Look at the following boxes first. Listen to the teacher/CD again. Then write in the boxes the series of works Ts'ai Lun' did in making paper. First one and the last one are done for you.

1. He took the bark of mulberry tree and bamboo fibre.

2. He mixed them .....

3. He pounded .....

4. He poured the mixture .....

5. He let the water..... .

6. He let the thing dry.

F PROJECT WORK: On a weekend, observe how ruti or paratah is made in the kitchen. Carefully take notes of each step taken to make it. Then back in class, share your notes with your partner/group. Finally write how ruti or paratah is made and make a presentation in the class.

Lesson 7: Contemplation

A Look at the picture and discuss in groups the possible answers to these questions.

- 1 Why is the boy up in the tree?
- 2 What is he looking at?
- 3 Guess what he is thinking about.

B Read the poem and answer the following questions.*Contemplation

For days and days I've climbed a tree
 A dappled yellow tree
 And gazed abroad at many things
 I've always wished to see.

I see the green and gentle fields
 All bounded in with hedge
 And shining rivers swimming through
 The rushes on the edge,
 And little sheep who play all day
 I watch them as they run,
 While far away the roofs of town
 Are shining in the sun.

I think it's very nice to sit
 So high and look so far----
 How very large the world can be!
 How many things there are!

John Carpenter

Note

dappled yellow tree - spotted yellow tree (the leaves may be yellow)

gazed abroad - looked around

bounded - surrounded

hedge - a thick row of bushes

swimming through - (the river like a person is swimming through) flowing through rushes - tall plants that grow on the river's edge

C Ask and answer these questions.

- 1 Where do you think the tree was?
- 2 What were the four things the poet could see from the tree?
- 3 Have you ever climbed a tree? If yes, what did you do it for? If not, why?

Unit Ten

The Truthful Dove

After we have studied this unit, we will be able to

- take part in discussions
- identify main points of a text

Lesson 1: The truthful dove (1)

Key word : shelter grumpy unwillingly generous flattery

A Talk about the picture and read the story of the dove and the bat.

Once upon a time, a dove and a bat were very good friends. One day the two friends decided to set out on a journey. They flew over the rivers and hills and came to a big jungle. Both the friends were very tired, they needed to sit down and take a rest. Soon night fell and it was dark all around. A storm rose. It started to rain heavily. The dove and the bat started to look for a shelter.

They came upon a century-old rain tree. An owl had his nest in that tree. The dove and the bat knocked at the owl's door. The old grumpy owl opened the door. The dove and the bat requested him to give them shelter. The owl unwillingly let them in. The two birds were hungry too. They begged for some food. The selfish owl was not happy. However, he shared his dinner with them. The dove was so tired that she could hardly eat. But the bat was sly. He ate greedily. He began to praise the owl with the thought of getting more food. The bat said, "O wise and brave owl, you are the most generous person I have ever seen. You are powerful and mighty."

The owl was very pleased at the bat's flattery. He puffed and ruffled himself, trying to look as wise and brave as possible. Then he turned to the dove and asked, "Now little dove, what do you think about me?"

B Ask and answer the following questions.

- 1 Who were the two good friends ?
- 2 What did they decide to do ?
- 3 Why were they tired ?
- 4 Why did they look for a shelter ?
- 5 Where did the dove and the bat come ?
- 6 Whose nest was there on the tree?
- 7 Which words tell you that the owl was not good at heart?
- 8 Why couldn't the dove eat?
- 9 Why did the bat praise the owl?

"What?" cried the bat. "Is that all you have to say to our gracious host? Is he not the wisest, bravest and most generous of all animals and birds? Don't you have praise for his noble character as well as for his goodness to us? I am ashamed of you! You do not deserve such hospitality. You do not deserve this shelter."

"You are an ungrateful bird, and the bat is right. You do not deserve this generous hospitality which I have offered. Get out! Be off, I say!" said the owl.

"Yes, get lost!" echoed the bat, flapping his leathery wings. The two heartless creatures fell upon the poor little dove and drove her out into the dark and stormy night.

But the owl and the bat did not go unpunished for their act of heartlessness. The bat can never fly in broad daylight. He has to wait for the sun to go down. And do you know what happened to the vain owl? Well, he is blind as long as the sun is up. He cannot hunt or feed himself unless it is dark. So the two vicious creatures with their dark heart live in the dark.

On the other hand, the dove is rewarded for her truthfulness. Her name shall be used by poets as long as the world lasts to rhyme with “LOVE”.

Bangladeshi cuisine is rich and varied with the use of many spices. We have delicious and appetizing food, snacks and sweets.

Boiled rice is our staple food. It is served with a variety of vegetables, curry, lentil soup, fish and meat. Fish is our main source of protein. Fishes are now cultivated in ponds. The people of Bangladesh are very fond of sweets. Almost all Bangladeshi women prepare some traditional sweets. Pitha, a type of sweets made from rice flour, sugar, syrup, molasses and sometimes milk, is a traditional food loved by the entire population. During winter Pitha Utsab, meaning pitha festival, is organized by different groups of people.

Sweets are distributed among close relatives when there is good news like births, weddings, promotions, etc.

Sweets of Bangladesh are mostly milk-based. The common ones are roshgolla, sandesh, rasamalai, gulap jamun and cham-cham. There are hundreds of different varieties of sweet preparations. Sweets are therefore an important part of the day-to-day life of Bangladeshi people.

Hello X,

Hope you are doing well. I am passing horrible time as I have been fighting a nasty viral flu since last week. That means we are not going to get together this weekend. I am extremely sorry for cancelling the event.

I hope you will understand my situation. We may think about a new date when I come round.

Please pray for my recovery.

Best regards,
